Hi Lotte,

I wanted to follow up on my note from Monday about me helping to launch British Enrolment Partners, a strategic international recruitment service for UK boarding schools, in case it's of interest - even if initially just to do the agency audit coverage exercise I mentioned in my last email. I've re-attached the Founding School Partner prospectus for ease.

Ying, John and I would be glad to set up a short call, or better still for BEP to come to you, to talk through this unique integrated approach to agency recruitment and, more pertinently, your school's international recruitment as it stands: where your pupils come from, how your agent relationships are performing, and where the opportunities might be.

No pitch, we've done that bit....and of course anything we discuss stays between us. Happy to sort out an NDA if required.

BEP is being deliberately selective in the composition of its Founding School Partners and capping partners at between just 5 and 10 for September. There are plans for a UK FAM trip and an international trip in October, so time really is of the essence.

Do message with some times if you'd like to arrange an initial chat or have any immediate questions the prospectus doesn't answer.

Best wishes as always,

Andrew
