Dear James

I hope this email finds you well.

Thanks for confirming your availability to meet at 3:30pm on Thursday.

We are looking forward to the opportunity to introduce British Enrolment Partners (BEP) and importantly, learn about Farlington School's international student recruitment objectives and priorities, and explore how we may be able to support your future enrolment strategy.

Would it be possible to meet via Microsoft Teams? If that's convenient, I would be delighted to send across a meeting invitation.

Kindest regards

John

Dear James,

I'm afraid we aren't available this afternoon as we're on a school visit with a BEP founding partner school.

I'm sure we could accomodate Thursday afternoon. Ideally 3.30pm would be perfect for me if that's possible?

Dear Andrew,

Do you have availability for this afternoon - say 4.15pm?

Or - we could look to meet Thursday at 3pm?

Let me know if either might work.

thanks

James

Dear Andrew,

Thank you for your email and information, which I have read with interest.

I would be interested to have a meeting to discuss the partnership options further, and to explore the viability of us exploring such a relationship.

Thank you

James

Hi James,

A few weeks on from British Enrolment Partners launch, I wanted to come back to you with the two things schools keep asking about: exactly what's included, and what happens if it doesn't deliver.

First, what's included. BEP is a full-service international enrolment function, not another agent. Working with BEP means all of this is handled for you, as one coordinated operation:

- Market strategy: which territories fit your school, and in what order
- Agent network recruitment, vetting and management, drawing on 700+ vetted agents worldwide
- Agent training and compliance support, to one consistent standard
- Always-on lead generation and family nurturing, in and out of term time
- Application handling through to enrolment, with every offer decision staying with you
- In-territory representation, so your school is present in market without your staff on planes
- Full pipeline visibility: your families, your data, your relationships throughout

Your existing agents and their commission arrangements stay exactly as they are, and we don't require full exclusivity to work together.

You can also find out more about BEP here.

Second, the commercial side. There are two ways to work with BEP:

- A performance partnership based on a commission fee for every recruited boarder, with no upfront fee at all. If BEP doesn't deliver enrolled pupils, it doesn't cost you anything.
- A retainer partnership which guarantees the same service level as above but limits your recruitment costs, and here's the part worth reading twice for schools that work with BEP on a retainer partnership basis....

If BEP hasn't generated at least ten new qualified applications for September 2027 entry (subject to territories BEP is authorised to support in), over and above your current baseline, by February half term 2027, we waive the retainer entirely from March to the end of June.

Ying, the Founder and CEO of BEP is that confident in what the team will deliver.

To be precise about what we're guaranteeing: qualified applications from right-fit families who've been through the full enrollment process for your school.

The decision to admit is always yours, so nobody can honestly guarantee enrolments, but we can and do guarantee the pipeline that produces them. One additional boarder is worth £40-60k a year in fee income; ten more qualified applications could mean a very different September 2027 for most boarding schools.

And that's the minimum uplift we expect. Not the maximum. We're talking with schools with 100s of boarders where we foresee far bigger increases in enrolment pipeline.

The first step, as ever, is a free audit of your current agent coverage and effectiveness, under NDA, with a written undertaking not to approach any agent we see.

If you'd like to talk any of this through, just reply to this email and I'll get a call booked in. We've got our next availability window for calls or visits to schools between Wednesday 5 and Monday 10 August, and we are well on the way to finalising our founding partner schools.

Let me know when works for you and I'll come straight back to you.

Best wishes as always,

Andrew
